Enterprise DEVELOPMENT BUNDLES

Elevate Your Learning and Development Strategy

Ivey Enterprise Development Bundles are designed to optimize your organization's investments in learning and development. Partner with Ivey and unlock preferred pricing, ongoing talent advisory services, and bonus value through virtual workshops and stackable certificates.

Innovation Through Strategic Learning Investments

As Canada's leading institute for management education and professional development, we understand the benefits of cultivating talent from within. By committing to a bundled credit package, you reduce learning and development costs while empowering your organization to make strategic, long-term investments in employee development.

Unique Bundle Benefits

- Influence and provide feedback on upcoming programs.
- Access exclusive promotions and discounts on newly launched courses.
- Early access to enroll in high-demand classes and programs.
- Participate in invitation-only webinars and workshops with industry experts.
- Tailored learning paths designed to meet specific organizational needs.
- Unlock stackable certificates that drive real-world application.
- Personalized support from a dedicated learning consultant.

The Process

- Needs Assessment: We start by deeply understanding your organization's objectives and challenges. We then analyze and identify key areas where our programs will create the most significant impact.
- Consultation: Next, we work with you to scope a customized bundle that suits your needs and budget. Leveraging best practices in competency mapping, we craft a plan that fits your big-picture goals.
- Collaboration: Together, we work with your key decision-makers to select the ideal bundle. This approach ensures that your solution is sustainable, cost-effective, and impactful.
- Communications: We equip your team with robust internal communication resources to engage the right participants and generate excitement about the learning experience.
- Sustainment: Our commitment extends beyond program delivery with monthly check-ins to offer ongoing guidance, address challenges, and ensure you maximize the benefits of your development bundle.
